present termination at Gansevoort street; to Twelfth street.

WERSTER'S DICTIONARY.

Also, a bill authorizing Webster's Dictionary, quarto, to be purchased by the Secretary of State, to be placed in every school district in the State.

Mr. Bekender opposed the bill contending that as the representative, in his capacity as Chairman of the Committee on Literature, of over a million of the children of the State, he must protest against the introduction, by authority, of Webster's Dictionary as a standard for their use. In support of his views he cited latters from Edward S. Gold, of New York, Mr. Bancroft, the historian, and a letter from Washington Irving, in which the latter complains that the publishers made unjust use of his opinion communicated thereon by letter.

Mr. Lyon replied to Mr. Beekman, and cited Prescott as the head of historians. Chancellor Kent, as first of jurists, and Thômas Hart Benton, as first of statesmen, as being strongly in favor of Webster. It was the glory of our country that we had-no provincialisms. We had, from north to south, one language

Mr. Beekman rejoined. He should regard the passage of this bill as a weed poisoning the sources of our literature.

Mr. Bascock alluded to the fact that Mr. Prescott of 1828 was not a good guide in orthography. All must cencede that.

Mr. Lvox asked what dictionary was there that had not changed? English. French, and German orthography changes as do other things. We grow wiser as we grow older, and Noah Webster was not exempt from this seculiarity. Why does not the Senator from the thirty-first (Mr. Babcock) find fault with Chaucer, that well of Old England, undefiled, because he spells wife "wyre?" Mr. Carrott said John C. Spencer had given his unquelified approbation to this dictionary; and as Mr. Spencer was the author of the Cann bill, and a capital constitutional argumentator in favor of it, he was good authority for the majority.

Mr. Dimmick had hoped that no disturbing element would be brought into the common school districts.

Mr. Miller suggested that Washington Irving was growing old, and the weight of his authority is lessened. Judgment does not always, like wine, grow better as it grows older.

Mr. Brikman said that the "History of New York" was the only work, every line of which Washington Irving, if dying, would wish to blot out.

The senate reported progress on the bill directing the repsyment of the sums paid by merchants, under protest, to the Mariners' Fund.

It was opposed on the ground that the money belonged to the emigrants, from whom it had been taken.

It was answered that it had been decided by the highest judicial tribural in the Union, that the State of New Yor had wrongfully taken this money, and was not lawfull in possession of it, and that the only question before the Senate was whether the State should retain money taken and held under such circumstances. Adjourned.

An act authorizing an appropriation of money is aid Mr. J. Benedict moved to recommit.

Mr. Turnill offered the motion, and Mr. Anthon op, posed. The motion was lost.

After some further discussion, the bill was lost.

Affairs at Albany.

OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE. ALBANY, June 27-Evening.

THE UNION COLLEGE AND ITS FINANCIAL AFFAIRS. On the 12th of April last, a few days previous to the apjournment of the regular session of the Legislature, a reso' lution was adopted in the Senate, authorizing the appointment of an accountant to make a thorough examination of the financial concerns of Union College. A man usmed Vanderheyden was selected, and he proceeded to the task. How far he has progressed is not known; but it seems that the trustees of the College are not satisfied with him. This morning they sent a memorial to the Senate, complaining of the appointment of this examiner. They state that the affairs of the institution were accutinized in 1831, by Silas Wright and Wm. James; in 1834, by Silas Wright, Wm. L. Marcy, and John P. Cushing; and at a later period, when Mr. Holland was ap-tinized in 1831, by Silas Wright and Wm. James; in 1834, by Silas Wright, Wm. L. Marcy, and John P. Cushing; and at a later period, when Mr. Holiand was appointed treasurer, some twelve years since, Silas Wright and John A. Dix made another examination of i shooks, papers, accounts and funds, since which time no investigation has been had and the Legislature are ignorant of its condition, except such appers, reports as the trustees themselves have furnished. Instead of the accountant, they desire that the Comptroller, Attorney General, and the Rev Dr. Campbell, the committee selected by the Senate to appoint the accountant, shall make a personal examination upon the following subjects:—

First—Whether the funds granted by the State to Union College have been fully applied to the objects specified in the respective grants.

Second—Whether the permanent funds so granted remain entire, and are safely invested.

Third—Whether any funds belonging to the College have been applied to any personal purpose, by the President or any other officer.

Fourth—Whether any and what, losses have occurred in the management of the funds of the College, and the cause of such losses, if any.

Fifth—Whether the President or any other officer has, while in the employment of the College, participated individually in the profits of any lotteries which were appointed by the acts granting such lotteries.

The trustees well know that neither of these gentlemen can enter upon the business, two of them being State officers, and the third a clerayman in active service, having in charge one of the largest congregations in this city.

The persons who signed this memorial were Eliphalet Nott, Reuben H. Walwerth, Christopher Morgan. Alvah Hunt, Edward C. Delavan, Braefford R. Wood, David H. Little, and Alonzo C. Paige. The memorial was referred to the Committee on Literature, where it will remain.

The most of the day was spent in the Senate, upon a bill to furnish each school district in the State with a copy of Webster's large distinctory. It w the purpose which the State had in view when it was established. Mr. Beekman advocated it, and it was established. Mr. Beekman advocated it, and it was adopted.

The Mariners' Fund, to the amount of some hundred and forty thousand dollars, paid into the treasury, under protest, by the ship owners in the city of New York, is now being endeavored to be refunded to the persons who paid it. A bill for that purpose was under consideration this morning. It proposes to refund the money. The opponents allow that the money does not belong to the treasury, because the United States courts have decided that the law under which it was collected is unconstitutional; but they allege that, instead of paying it back to those who contributed it, the money should be given to those emigrants for whose passage and arrival in the city of New York it was paid, intimating that the passengers were charged per head, in advance of their passage, the amount which the State exacted. The bill was laid aside.

In the House, this morning, the Pilot bill was lost. Also, a bill appropriating a sum of money to send free negroes to Liberia.

The efforts of Mr. Gregory have been successful in obtaining the passage of an act granting partial relief to the New York Volunteers who served in the Mexican war. Its fate in the Senate cannot be predicted.

The Sodus Canab bill, which has produced much feeling in opposition, principally from Owego, and for which a strong lobby has been in attitudace two or three sessions, was finally passed in the Assembly to-day, and is a law.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

Paterson, New Jersey, Court of Oyer and Terminer. Presiding, Chief Justice Ogden, and Justices Sandford and Van Saum. TRIAL OF EDWARD MITCHELL COLE AND JOHN JORDAN, INDICTED FOR HAVING COUNTERPEIT MONEY IN THEIR POSSESSION. THEIR POSSESSION.

JUNE 26.—At the opening of the Court, this day, the trial of Edward Mitchell Cole and John Jordan was called on, but in consequence of a material witness on the part of the prosecution being absent, the District Attorney, Samuel Barkalow, Keq., moved for a postponement. The attorney explained to the Court that the witness required was a resident in Providence, Rhode Island, and therefore beyond the jurisdiction of the Court; yet still, said the attorney, I have every reason to believe he will be here to day or to-morrow, and I sak a postponement until Monday next.

Counsel for the defence remarked, in reply, that they were ready for trial, and wished to proceed.

The Court said they workl permit the case to stand over ubtil the meeting of the afternoon session, and if the witness was not present, they would then make some disposition of the gratter.

At the meeting of the afternoon session, the District Attorney moved for the case to be postponed until the sext term of the court, in October, as the witness referred to had not arrived.

The Court flerefore deferred the trial until the October term.

The accused parties, Cole and Jordan, were then called next term of the coert, in October, as the witness referred to had not arrived.

The Court therefore deferred the trial until the October term.

The accused parties, Code and Jordan, were then called up before the Court, and their recognizances renewed in the sum of $1000 such, for their appearance to answer the indicinent at the next term of court.

It will be recollected that Cole and Jordan are indicted for having in their possession some $35,000 worth of counterfeit bills of the Chester Bank. Ofange country, New York with an intent to pass and utter the same. This counterfeit mease, it appears, was taken from a secret place in the factory of old Mr. Cole, the Bank robber, new in jast at Providence, Rhode Island swaiting his trial. The money was intended to said Levi in making his secupe from jail, and is alleged to have been removed from the milt by Cole (Levi's brother); and Jordan, the father-in-law of Levi, for the purposes as abovementioned. A detailed accent of the facts were published in this journal, some week or two since.

During the holding of the court this term, it will be seen by the annexed list of convictions and sentences, that some desperate fellows have been brought to justice, and James Leary, each ten years and six months do, and Edward Norten six years do.

The above named convicts were convicted of highway robbery; knecking a man down and robbing him of his watch; siso two charges of burglary, grand larceny, and breaking jail.

The other convicts were convicted of less offences—Francis Redy, grand larceny, two years in State Prison; Charles E. Atherton, forgery, six years do, and Samuel Clark, asseult and battery on his wife, six months do.

Thus it will be seen that the Paterson courts hape disposed to grant his favor to the community will be relieved from their depredations, unless the Governor shoult feel disposed of some dangerous characters for a term of years, whereby the community will be relieved from their depredations, unless the Governor shoult feel disposed to grant his fav

United States District Court.

Before Hon Judge Betts.

June 21—The Late Culone Expeditionists.—In the matter of Mesers. O'Sullivan, Lewis and Slessinger, charged with fitting out a vessel for the purpose of invading the island of Coh., Mesers. F. B. Cutting and John Van Buren appeared as counsel for the accused parties, for the purpose of moving the Court to quash the indictment, which contains ninety-seven counts. The objections raised by Mr. Cutting are twofed: First, that the act of Congress under which the indictment is laid, did not prohibit the acts applied only to cases of independent nations which were at war with each other, and prohibit ed citizens of the United States from taking part with either of the belligerents. The next objection was, that if the offence was within the act of ISIS. commonly called the neutrality act, still, that the crimes were not set out with sufficient circumstantiality, as to place and particulars, which the law requires.

The District Attorney, Mr. J. Prescott Hait; contended, in reply, that the law extends to every military expedition directed against any friendly nower, and that all attempts to stirup insurrection or civil war, by means of military enterprise, was within the provisions of the act; and also that the indistment followed the very words of the statute, and also that the indistment followed the very words of the statute, and also that the present indictments for michemeanors it was sufficient to follow the words of the statute, and also that the present indictments for michemeanors it was sufficient to follow the words of the statute, and also that the present indictment was fully supported by precedents. Mr. Hall cited the case of the United States against Smith and Ogden, tried more than fifty years ago, in this Court, and which, he raid, was exceedingly like that in the trial of General Henderson, in New Orleans, against which he case of the United States against Smith and crited the case of the United States against Smith and caster, 2d Mc Clean's Rep.;

Adjourned to this (Saturday) morning. Mr. J. Van Buren will reply upon the part of the accused. True Bills.—The Grand Jury have returned true bills against Haynes, of the ship Meridian, for an assault on J. N. Prince, while lying in the port of Liverpool; against G. W. Hawes, for account on Willard Russell, on beard the ship Brother Jonathan; and against Edward K. Smith, for bringing an excess of passengers to this port from Hayre, on board the Astracas; and against Charles Haise, for an excess of passengers from Bremen.
